Location: Old Base Museum Campus.
- 11:00 am – 12:00 pm BATTLE OF CULVER HILL MEMORIAL CEREMONY
Location: Culver Hill Historical Park, 6453 State Route 22, two miles north of intersection of Route 374 in Beekmantown. On Sept. 6, 1814, a large British army numbering in the thousands marched through Beekmantown on their way to occupy the Village of Plattsburgh. In an attempt to hinder that advance, a small American force consisting of regular army and militia made a stand behind stone walls on the rise of land known as Culver Hill. What ensued was a short but very intense skirmish that resulted in several dead and wounded, including American Corporal Stephen Partridge of Essex County New York State Militia and two British officers, Lt. Col. James Willington and Ensign John Chapman, of the Royal East Kent Regiment, Third Foot, also known as the Buffs. A memorial ceremony will take place to help recognize and honor the sacrifices made by both sides of this bloody conflict.
